

FORWARD MARCH
WORMS AND HOMOEOPATHY
February 2013

The cause of a thing or of an event can never be at the same time the thing or the event itself.

Worms are intestinal parasites, which infest human being as well as animals like cats, dogs, etc. The common ones are round worms, pin worms, tape worms, hook worm etc. These parasites reside in human intestines. The vermicular diseases not only affect the digestive system but effects other body parts and mind also. The sick may develop anger, habit of biting, fear, restlessness, sleeplessness and irritability with worms. A small child kicking in bed could be a sign of worms in symptoms. There are other innumerable symptoms like headache, vision complaints, oral problems like thick coating of tongue, offensive odour from mouth, increased salivation, dentition trouble in children, increased appetite, vomiting, indigestion, abdominal pain, constipation, diarrhoea, itching in rectum associated with this worm pathology. Worms may accompany vertigo, convulsions, involuntary urination, increased sexual desire, masturbation disposition, kidney problems, fever, weakness and others.

How rational is deforming?

There is a false gleam of necessity in the expulsion by deworming of worms, in so called vermicular disease they soon reappear in large quantities, and forceful removal of worms produce & various after effects and robs the general health of the patient. Actually presence of worms always dependent on the susceptibility of the constitution of the individual. Some children suffer with roundworm in many there exists tape worm and pinworms. It is a psoric taint when it is cured homeopathy the intestinal flora & the content of bowels becomes unsuitable for worms growth & support. Seed & plants only grow in fertile soil, so as the worms.

HOMOEOPATHY

Treatment in Homeopathy is holistic. Symptoms are just the guide to form the portrait of sickness in the sick. And hence, cures takes place by removal of all the morbid physical, emotional, and mental symptoms. Homeopathic medicines are not given on the name of the disease. They are always prescribed keeping in view all the signs and symptoms of the vital energy. Homeopathic medicine provides the strength to the vital energy and makes it stronger to fight against the disease and leaves the individual in better health, more energetic. Dr. Hahnemann, the founder of homoeopathy has mentioned that the cause of illness is always internal. He says –“The causes of our maladies cannot be material, since the least foreign material substance, however mild it may appear to us, if introduced into our blood-vessels, is promptly ejected by the vital force, as though it were a poison; or when this does not happen, death ensues. If even the minutest splinter penetrates a sensitive part of our organism, the vital principle everywhere present in our body never rests until it is removed by pain, fever, suppuration or gangrene.”
